

Community Education Programme in Northeast Campus

Community Education is a form of lifelong learning which focuses specifically on adults and communities who routinely experience barriers to education and social inclusion.

It is driven by the needs of the learners and their communities and seeks to empower learners and communities to address issues of social injustice, inequality and exclusion at local and global levels.

CDETb Adult Education Services provides and facilitates Community Education using a partnership approach with local communities, groups and organisations and also through providing programmes in the City of Dublin ETB Adult Education Centre in Ballymun.

Who do we work with?

Community Education is targeted at adults experiencing disadvantage and/or social exclusion. Whilst the below list is not exhaustive, examples of the community groups we work with includes:

- Adults with low levels of formal educational achievement
- Traveller Community
- Ethnic minorities
- People experiencing homelessness
- People with a disability
- People who have left the prison system
- People affected by addiction
- LGBTQIA+ Groups
- People experiencing mental health difficulties
- Men's Groups
- Older People
- Parents Groups, including Young Parents, and One Parent families.
- People affected by unemployment
- Women's groups
- Migrant communities
- Refugees, asylum seekers and those living in direct provision
- Community development groups
